Who is ARoH?

The Australian Register of Homoeopaths (ARoH) is the non-statutory national registration board for professional homoeopaths in Australia.

Check if your Homoeopath is registered

You can check the ARoH registration status of your practitioner by visiting the ARoH website at:

Your rights

ARoH believes that you should have access to the best possible Homoeopathic healthcare. This means that you are provided a high quality and professional service.

Resolving complaints

ARoH protects the public by handling complaints. We ask that if:

- You're unhappy with some aspect of your treatment – Try and resolve it with your practitioner first. Most issues can be dealt with this way especially if there has been a misunderstanding.
- Resolution can't be reached or you'd like arbitration – Lodge a complaint with ARoH, details are available online at: www.aroh.com.au
